ARTSED TENNESSEE

ADVOCATING FOR THE ARTS FOR TENNESSEE STUDENTS

WHO WE ARE

ArtsEd Tennessee is a statewide coalition dedicated to ensuring that every Tennessee student has access to a comprehensive and sequential arts education (music, theatre, visual art, dance). As a 501c3 nonprofit, our focus is on promoting supportive arts education policies and essential funding at the state level and building advocacy capacity at the local level.

Essential to the mission of ArtsEd Tennessee is the need to build an informed and engaged constituency through workshops, direct communications, and customized support and resources for the purpose of building capacity for arts education advocacy at the local and state level.

Announcing ArtsEd Tennessee's Free Online Course—

BUILDING A STRONG VOICE FOR ARTS EDUCATION IN TENNESSEE

ArtsEd Tennessee, in partnership with the CMA Foundation, has launched a series of learning modules designed to advance knowledge and understanding of arts education advocacy, and provide immediate action steps for engagement. The modules are appropriate for a broad audience with varying degrees of engagement in arts education, including teachers, students, administrators, parents, arts and culture organizations, and community and philanthropic leaders. Thanks to the financial support of the CMA Foundation, the course is available to you at no cost.

WHAT IS INCLUDED IN THE COURSE?

Our course consists of three modules with sub-topics. These themes are addressed:

- The role of the individual advocate
- ▶ Building a local arts education advocacy coalition
- Existing laws and policies that impact arts education in Tennessee
- ▶ Tools and opportunities for engagement

WHO SHOULD TAKE THIS COURSE?

Our course is appropriate for a broad audience, including teachers, students, parents, school administrators, arts and culture organizations, and community and philanthropic leaders.

WHY SHOULD I TAKE THIS COURSE?

Each year state laws are passed that impact arts education in your community and schools. This course will give you the tools you need to have a voice in influencing these laws and policies, both locally and at the state level.

I WANT TO BE AN AGENT OF CHANGE IN MY COMMUNITY. HOW DO I GET STARTED?
